Suttur Jathra Mahotsava begins

Nanjangud, Jan. 21 (RS&SD)- Thousands of people from different parts of the State have started arriving at Suttur Srikshetra on the banks of Kapila in Nanjangud taluk of Mysuru district since this morning to take part in the Annual Suttur Jathra Mahotsava that will feature a variety of spiritual, educational, sports and cultural activities.

The six-day event is organised every year by Suttur Mutt to commemorate the birth anniversary of Adi Jagadguru Sri Shivarathreeshwara Shivayogi Swamiji, who founded the Sri Veerasimhasana Mahasamsthana Mutt at Suttur Srikshetra ten centuries ago. With Suttur wearing a festive look, people from Mysuru, Mandya, Chamarajanagar and Hassan are thronging the Srikshetra to take part in the fest, which will be officially inaugurated this evening.

As a prelude to the festival, a number of rituals were held at Suttur Mutt this morning since 4 am. Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji conducted Abhisheka at Karthru Gadduge.

Meanwhile, in the backdrop of a live bomb being found at Mangaluru International Airport (MIA) yesterday, which was successfully detonated by bomb detection and disposal squad later in the evening, elaborate security arrangements have been made at Suttur Shrine.

Speaking to media, Nanjangud Dy.SP Prabhakar Rao Shinde informed that as part of their readiness, security personnel have been deployed at various points in town including 2 Dy.SPs, 9 Circle Inspectors, 34 PSIs, 62 ASIs, 300 Head Constables and Police Constables, 2 Karnataka State Reserve Police (KSRP) battalions, 3 metal detectors along with the Dog Squads.

The Mutt has deployed more than 1,000 volunteers to provide clean drinking water, distribute prasadam, maintain cleanliness and sprinkle the water on mud roads to prevent dust as vehicles move.

The exhibition, agriculture fair and cultural fair are expected to draw a large number of visitors on the first day of the festival.

More than 200 stalls displaying home-made products, clothes, dress materials, handicrafts, agriculture tools and equipment have been set up at the exhibition.

Information centres have been set up at various parts of Suttur to guide the visitors about various events, which will be held during the 6-dayMahotsava.

Well-being and Well-feeling

The ground rules for human beings to be complied with in order to prolong their well-being as age catches up, particularly from boyhood stage onwards don't seem to be beyond the grasp of anybody, literate or illiterate. Moderation in the matter of food consumption, as prescribed by the wise, the apparently simple-to-follow rule has hardly any takers, given the current scenario of proliferation of restaurants and eateries offering dishes that beckon all sections of society making a beeline to their favourite joint, as in Mysuru like anywhere else. The other prescriptions for safeguarding one's health, namely regular exercise, adherence to personal hygiene, avoiding habits that hurt well-being, keeping vigil on symptoms of even common illnesses, adequate sleep, not to burst in anger when provoked, patience while facing tough situations, minimising wants and so on also don't have many takers in the age bracket of moving to middle age. French novelist, Victor Hugo (1802-1885), considered to be one of the greatest and best known French writers, author of the famous novel Les Misérables, has thoughtfully observed that *Forty is the old age of youth, fifty the youth of old age.

The land's ancient pundits are known to have emphasised disciplining the mind towards achieving a balance between wealth and health, both complementing each other. Their lifestyle, unlike that of people at present times, didn't depend on medical practitioners and hospitals which are integral part of a system in which health lost can be regained to a considerable extent.

Factors hurting people's health in the urban spaces and those impacting the well-being of rustics are in stark contrast. The residents of India's villages with an estimated headcount of nearly 80 crore have neither the wherewithal to pay for the medical attention nor access to medical facilities unlike the urbanites. Diseases, unsafe food and pollution of ambient air seem to be in competition to threaten the wellness of urban population to an extent and on a scale with no signs of mitigating. In an economic study that analysed data across 132 countries to measure the relationship between well-being and age, according to a report published in a section of the press, peak unhappiness is reached at the age of 48.2 years in developing nations.

While the society has to carry the burden of ill health bugging the vulnerable sections, the imperatives of pro-actively complying with the aforementioned ground rules to prolong well-being of economically productive sections in the nation's population cannot be overemphasised. The idiom "Healthy mind in a healthy body" succinctly connects well-being with well-feeling.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

There is a psychological condition which is well-known to marketing managers. It's called FOMO and its symptoms are anxiety and a compulsive desire to buy all sorts of things, without stopping to think. FOMO stands for Fear Of Missing Out and it's one of the best marketing gambits ever devised. It's based on the sense of insecurity we suffer when we feel that we are going to be left out of something which everyone else has got or is getting. How does FOMO work? We see this ad in the newspaper or on TV. HURRY! RUSH! GOING FAST!! GET IT TILL STOCKS LAST!!! This exclamatory command galvanises us into instant action. So much so that often we don't even pause to figure out what it is which is being sold in such a hell-bent hurry. We don't pause to consider the incorrect grammar of the message which, rightly speaking, should be GET IT WHILE STOCKS LAST ! Not TILL STOCKS LAST !

NEWS SPARKLERS

Man finds out his wife of two weeks is a man

Uganda: An Ugandan holy man was suspended from his duties as Imam, after it was discovered that he had unknowingly wed a fellow man.

27-year-old Sheikh Mohammed Mutumba, was recently suspended from his duties as a cleric at the Kyampisi Masjid Noor mosque in Kayunga, after his wife of two weeks was caught stealing a TV from a neighbour. The theft wasn't what caused the imam's suspension, but the shocking revelation that his wife, Swabullah Nabukeera, was actually a man. Mutumba is said to have been totally oblivious to his wife's real gender, and was devastated by the news. His superiors at the mosque still decided to suspend him in order to 'preserve the integrity of their faith.'

Mom freaked out as 'haunted' frozen doll returns home

Houston: A mom from Houston has taken to social media to reveal why she believes her daughter, Aurelia, has a "haunted" Elsa doll.

In a viral post on Facebook, that has now been deleted, Emily Madonia explained that Aurelia's toy had first started to freak them out when it began singing and talking in Spanish, while switched off.

Emily wrote: "Mat threw it away weeks ago and then we found it inside on a wooden bench. We tightly wrapped it in its own garbage bag and put that garbage bag inside another garbage bag filled with other garbage and put it in the bottom of our garbage can underneath a bunch of other bags of garbage and wheeled it to the curb and it was collected on garbage day."

The family then went on holiday, thinking the whole thing was behind them, but when they returned home, the doll was back. "We were out of town, forgot about it. Today Aurelia says, 'Mom I saw the Elsa doll again in the backyard'," she said.

HEALTH CAPSULE by Bron Smith

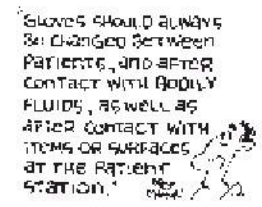
Is it necessary for health care workers to wash their hands after taking off their gloves?



Gloves should always be changed between patients, and after contact with bodily fluids, as well as after contact with items or surfaces at the patient station.

It is advisable to wash hands after removing surgical gloves because microbes are small enough to pass through latex.

VOICE OF THE READER

Stop indiscriminate dumping of debris on road sides

Sir,

City road sides have become dumping ground for all sorts of garbage and debris. Majority of the tractors that roam in the city limits carry loads of waste materials which they dump on the road side without any hesitation, fear of MCC authorities or concern for public health.

The above photo was taken on the stretch from Lalitha Mahal Road to Helipad. People who go for regular morning walk have to cover their nose as the stench from the road side dump disturbs and sometimes nauseates to say the least.

This is supposed to be a road frequented by VIPs and VVIPs either to land or depart from this Helipad. In addition, trucks from other States can be seen frequently carrying all sorts of waste materials under the garb of industrial raw materials which they dump regularly. Such things not only spoil the beautiful city but also create health issues for the road-users.

It appears, Mysuru city has become a place to dump anything and everything under the very nose of civic authorities. Citizens wonder when these authorities wake-up from their long slumber and show some concern for the city which is vying for the 'Cleanest City' tag !

Anil Kumble photographs birds for nearly five hours at Ranganathittu

Srirangapatna, Jan. 21 (Vinay Karekura&KS)- Former international cricketer and an avid wildlife photographer, Anil Kumble, visited Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary near Srirangapatna yesterday afternoon and spent nearly five hours clicking photographs of various birds there.

Kumble, who came to the Bird Sanctuary at about 1 pm along with two of his friends, took a boat ride in the Sanctuary and captured photos of various birds in his camera till 6 pm.

Speaking on the occasion, Kumble said: "I come to Ranganathittu whenever I get time and click photos of birds which I love."

Ranganathittu Range Forest Officer (RFO) Puttamadegowda said that Anil Kumble, who is also the Forest Department Brand Ambassador, has come to Ranganathittu many times and has spent more time learning about birds and clicking photographs of them. The entire Department staff is happy to see Kumble at Ranganathittu, he added.

Sankranti 'Kicchu Hayisuvudu'

Man succumbs to burns at hospital

Mandya, Jan.21 (Nagaiah & KS)- A 35-year-old man, who suffered severe burn injuries after he fell on the fire during the Sankranti ritual of 'Kicchu Hayisuvudu' that involves bullocks and their masters running through the flames, at Chikkaballi village, has succumbed to burns at K.R. Hospital in Mysuru.

The deceased is Ravi of Chikkaballi in the taluk.

While trying to jump his cattle over the fire, Ravi's clothes were caught in fire which was extinguished by the villagers.

But Ravi, who had suffered nearly 80% burns, was rushed to K.R. Hospital, where he has succumbed to burn injuries, it is learnt.

Keregodu Police have registered a case in this regard.

Attempt to steal goats

Youth lynched, another injured

Mysuru, Jan.21 (RK&KS)- A youth, accused of attempting to steal goats along with his accomplice, was lynched while his accomplice suffered injuries after they were beaten by the public at Belavatta village near here on Sunday.

While the deceased is Zahiruddin (25), a resident of Udayagiri in city, the injured, identified as Karthik, has been admitted to K.R. Hospital in city.

Deceased's brother Rahamathulla has lodged a complaint at Metagalli Police Station.

In his complaint, Rahamathulla has stated that on Sunday at about 7.30 am, his elder brother Zahiruddin left the house in his autorickshaw and at about 2 pm, he received a call from one Shafiulla, who told him that his brother's dead body was at MMC&RI mortuary.

He has further stated that when he rushed to the mortuary, he found his brother dead and when he heard that Karthik was assaulted and undergoing treatment at K.R. Hospital, Rahamathulla went to K.R. Hospital and enquired there, where he found people talking that they (Zahiruddin and Karthik) were caught while trying to steal goats at Belavatta and the public had assaulted them.

Rahamathulla said that he immediately went to Belavatta, where a villager told him that on Sunday at about 12.30 pm, Zahiruddin and Karthik had come to the village in an autorickshaw and were going back after stealing goats when the villagers saw them and caught hold of Karthik near the water tank. As Zahiruddin was driving the auto very speed, he lost control of the auto at a turning which then toppled.

Soon, the public, who were chasing the auto, caught Zahiruddin and beat him black and blue and Metagalli Police, who rushed to the spot, shifted both Zahiruddin and Karthik to K.R. Hospital in an ambulance, the villager said, according to the complaint.

Rahamathulla has urged the Police to initiate legal action against those responsible for his brother's death.

Based on the complaint, Metagalli Police, who have registered a case, are investigating.

Inspector Raghavendra Gowda conducted an enquiry at Belavatta to trace the culprits.

Mock Counter-Terrorism Drill by NSG Commandos at Mysore Palace ends at 2.30 this morning

A NSG Commando in action atop the Mysore Palace last evening.

Mysuru, Jan.21 (RK&DM)- Continuing their 'operation' for the second day on Monday, Commandos of the elite National Security Guard (NSG), a counter-terrorism unit, conducted a 'Mock Drill' at Mysore Palace premises last evening. The Mock Drill which commenced at around 5 pm concluded at 2.30 am today.

NSG Commandos from Chennai carried out the Mock Drill to check their preparedness for any eventuality at the Palace.

The 'exercise' started with the City Police Control Room and Palace Security Office receiving a 'mock terror attack call' at 6 pm, following which DCP M.Muthuraj and other Police personnel, after alerting the Garuda Commando Force at Bengaluru and NSG Commandos at Chennai, rush to the Palace.

The Police, after closing down all entrances to the Palace, made public announcements asking the people not to move around. Thereafter, the city cops along with 200 trained Armed Commandos, checked every corner of the Palace and stood guard in and around the Palace premises. The forces in action were in communication with the Palace Security Office and the Police Control Room, updating the Police Officers every moment.

Even as another Police team headed by Devaraja ACP Shashidhar was guiding the Police personnel at the Palace entrance from CADA Office side, the Police get an 'alert call' on terror acts by terrorists 'hiding' in the Palace. As the Police were bracing themselves to take on the terrorists 'holed up' in the Palace premises, four teams of NSG Commandos from Chennai arrive at the Palace at about 7.45 pm.

The commandos who began their 'counter action' from the Eastern Gate of the Palace, wage a battle with the holed up terrorists for about 45 minutes and finally succeed in cornering the terrorists. The 'Mock Drill' ended at 2.30 am this morning with the Commandos declaring that all the terrorists were flushed out of the Palace and there was no security threat.

The Palace was shut for visitors after 2 pm yesterday to facilitate the mock drill, which involved various Government agencies including Health and Revenue Department, the Disaster Management Cell, Airport authorities and Internal Security Wing of the Police.

The aim was to sensitise officers of all the Departments concerned on their role and responsibilities in case of terror attacks and how they should swiftly respond to the situation.

The drill was conducted in the city keeping in mind the location of famous tourist spots, crowded areas, vital installations and sensitive Government establishments. According to sources, the Commandos analyse the situation if there is a terror attack on the selected target and what procedure should be followed and action taken.

On Sunday, similar drills were conducted in IT establishments like Infosys and Wipro and other key Government installations in and around the city, it is learnt.

Belur to Tagore: Who is Tagore?

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

Prime Minister Modi-ji said at Belur Mutt: "Swami Vivekananda lives in the hearts and minds of crores of Indians." Then he said: "The new citizenship laws will not take away anyone's citizenship." Then two things happened.

1. The Belur Mutt lost no time in distancing itself from the Prime Minister's position. The Mutt was apolitical, its spokesmen said, where people of all religions lived like "brothers born of same parents."

2. Someone reminded everyone about Vivekananda's famous words. "I am proud to belong to a religion that sees all religions as true. I am proud to belong to a nation that has sheltered the persecuted and refugees of all religions and all nations on earth."

Were Vivekananda and Narendra Modi speaking about the same nation, the same religion? More than a century later, Vivekananda's words at Chicago still resonate across the world as relevant. Narendra Modi's words are seen as relevant only to hardcore Hindutva politicians.

Vivekananda represented Hinduism's universal values and its philosophy of tolerance that won respect across the globe. Hindutva is a political gimmick that divides people for political gains. One enables visionaries to rise. The other makes bigots like ABVP's Akshar Awasti boast: "There was a man with a flowing beard. He looked like a Kashmiri. I beat him up." Awasti is Ministerial material in the India we don't want. But others like him are already in power. Which other Home Minister in which other country will threaten Opposition leaders as Amit Shah did last week? Consider two intimidating quotes.

1. "Congress, listen. Listen carefully. Oppose it as much as you can, we will rest only after giving citizenship to all those covered under CAA."

2. "Tukde tukde gangs that raised anti-national slogans at JNU should be behind bars. But Rahul Gandhi and Arvind Kejriwal want to save them. Listen Kejriwal, whoever raises anti-national slogans will be jailed."

The language and the tone of these statements are those of a bully ready to use brute force to silence critics. Modi sounds different because of his gift of showmanship and his ability to ignore the difference between words and actions. A master of visuals, he joined morning prayers at Belur Mutt and spent time in Vivekananda's room, doing photogenic pranayama. The world was also informed that the Prime Minister skipped his usual morning walk and had upma and dosa for breakfast.

Knowing how to use public relations smartly is a gift in itself. But no amount of PR can wipe out the travails of those who now have to prove their citizenship. Among the uneducated and the poor, how many will have documents such as birth certificates and residential documents of parents? As Prashant Kishor said the other day: "To throw out 3 percent illegal residents, 97 percent have to go through unimaginable logistical nightmare."

Ignoring the nightmares of innocent citizens, Modi-2 chose to be more stridently Hindutva than Modi-1. Its newfound authoritarianism forced even the usually cautious business community to express concerns. The Government will not budge. The CAA is the first instance in India of citizenship getting linked directly to religion.

"Knowing how to use public relations smartly is a gift in itself. But no amount of PR can wipe out the travails of those who now have to prove their citizenship. Among the uneducated and the poor, how many will have documents such as birth certificates and residential documents of parents? As Prashant Kishor said the other day: "To throw out 3 percent illegal residents, 97 percent have to go through unimaginable logistical nightmare."

The BJP's own ability to handle the complications arising from 'reforms' like CAA seems doubtful. It is a party with no second level of leadership. J.P. Nadda, newly appointed President of the party, is a nobody in all-India terms. Vijay Rupani is a loser in his own home base of Gujarat. Manoharlal Khattar and Devendra Fadnavis have been unable to grow even inside their States. Modi-Shah duo is a banyan tree under which nothing grows. Hence the resort to gimmicks, threats, false posturings and untruths.

Which lends relevance to a recent Tony Joseph declamation: "Lies that are outright. Lies that are quarter true. Lies deep-fried in malice. Lies lightly cooked in pseudo-concern. Lies that came readymade from the factory. Lies custom made. Lies practised and repeated. Lies spontaneous. Lies that make you hate. The regime lives on lies."

Harsh realities put in harsh words. But the scenario was foretold by Tagore in Gitanjali's immortal words. Is the mind without fear and the head held high in Amit Shah's India? Is ours a world that has not been broken up into fragments by narrow domestic walls, where words come out from the depth of truth, where the clear stream of reason has not lost its way into the dreary desert sand of dead habit? Can we pray with hope: "Into that heaven of freedom, my father, let my country awake!"

I can hear Amit Shah asking, "Kaun hai Tagore?"

'True art will transform society'

Mysuru, Jan.21 (SBD&DM)- Senior Scholar Prof. Maleyur Guruswamy said that true art will transform society for better.

He was speaking at a function jointly organised by Kannada Sahitya Kalakoota and Kadamba Ranga Vedike to felicitate Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa, Karnataka Nataka Academy awardees — playwright Venugopal and Rangayana artiste B.N. Shashikala — at Sriranga auditorium in Rangayana premises here last evening.

Noting that honouring artistes is representative of our culture, Prof. Maleyur Guruswamy said that art will get its true meaning only when everyone gets transformed after experiencing the theatre.

Recalling an instance when artiste Mohammad Peer, who played the main role in the play 'Gautam Buddha,' was thronged by the audience after the play to touch his feet and seek his blessings as if he himself was Buddha, Prof. Maleyur Guruswamy said that the play was so interesting that the spectators got lost in it and the roles in the play represented the true nature of art.

Recounting Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa's contribution to theatre, Prof. Guruswamy said that Cariappa was a passionate theatre personality trained in Heggodu.

Mallikarjunaswamy.

Pointing out that it was not an easy task for Cariappa to promote theatre in Kodagu for 12 long years, he recalled the services of Cariappa as a regional cinema director, journalist and as a staff of Madikeri Akashavani.

He further said that Cariappa has directed 20 Kannada and 14 Kodava plays, apart from several children plays and wished him more success in his future endeavours at the Rangayana.

Stating that Karnataka Nataka Academy awardee Prof. Venugopal has an outstanding record as a theatre personality, Prof. Guruswamy said that Venugopal had served a jail term during Emergency. Pointing out that Venugopal has scripted over 70 street plays, he said that though Venugopal was visually impaired, he continues to serve the society as a leading light to many.

Recounting the achievements of Shashikala as an artiste, Prof. Guruswamy said that she is best known for her mono-acting plays.

Speaking after receiving felicitation, Cariappa said that he became Rangayana Director as he had luck on his side apart from merit, though there were many aspirants.

Asserting that Kodagu Poet Haradasa Appachcha Kavi was the biggest inspiration for him, he recalled the support that he got from theatre stalwarts such as S.R. Ramesh.

Stating that he greatly felt honoured for having occupied the post which was once adorned by theatre giant B.V. Karanth, Cariappa said that he will be guided by senior artistes in his endeavour for taking Rangayana to much greater heights.

Invoking Goddess Cauvery, Cariappa pledged to work honestly and efficiently as the head of the theatre repertory.

Earlier, Star of Mysore Editor-in-Chief K.B. Ganapathy felicitated Cariappa, Venugopal and Shashikala by crowning them with Mysore Peta.

In his address, K.B. Ganapathy opined that those who dream of success should be ready for hard work. He said that creativity is key for any artiste or littérateur to succeed.

MRC Chairman flags off

High alert in Mysuru, KRS

Meanwhile, security has been heightened at Mandakalli airport and other public joints such as KSRTC City and Sub-urban bus stands, Railway Station and popular tourist spots. Additional Police personnel and Chamundi Command Force have been stationed at the entrance and exit gates of Mandakalli airport, Runway, parking lot and entire premises of the airport.

Security personnel are standing guard atop the Airport terminal building, keeping a watch on any suspicious movements. Security has also been beefed up at important tourist destinations such as Palace, Jaganmohan Palace, Karanji Lake and Chamundi Hill and key and sensitive Government establishments like CFTRI, DFRL, RBI, Bank Note Paper Mill and CSRTI. The Police have intensified checks at checkposts on Highways.

City Police Commissioner K.T. Balakrishna has asked all the Police Stations to be on high alert and to intensify patrolling and vehicle checking in their respective jurisdiction.

Security at KRS heightened: With the Bomb scare at Mangaluru Airport on Monday hitting the national headlines, security has been heightened at KRS Dam near Belagola in Srirangapatna taluk. Mandya SP K. Parashuram speaking to Star of Mysore said that following a bag containing an IED found at the entrance of Mangaluru Airport causing a security threat, more than a hundred personnel of Karnataka State Industrial Security Force (KSISF) have been deployed at vantage points at KRS dam. Also Additional Police Force has been stationed at other important tourist destinations such as Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary, tourist spots in and around Srirangapatna town and the Market. CCTV Cameras installed at key locations and prominent public joints such as bus-stand and Railway Station are being constantly monitored for any suspicious and irregular movements. The Dog Squad, Bomb Disposal Squad have been put on alert and the public need not be worried over their safety and security, the SP said.

J.P. Nadda takes over as BJP Chief from Amit Shah

New Delhi, Jan. 21- J.P. Nadda took over as BJP President yesterday, a responsibility he shared with Home Minister Amit Shah for nearly a year. Nadda, considered number three in the ruling party after Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Amit Shah, was elected unopposed since he was the only candidate.

Nadda's name was proposed by ex-Chiefs and Parliamentary Board Members Amit Shah, Rajnath Singh and Nitin Gadkari.

Nadda enjoys the trust of both Modi and Shah, and the change of guard is expected to be a smooth one. But his biggest challenge now is to try and maintain the BJP's dominance in elections, given the party's losses in recent State elections.

A veteran leader, Nadda is an old organisational work horse with strong RSS (BJP's ideological mentor) roots. He was MLA in Himachal Pradesh for three terms before he moved to the Central Govt. as Cabinet Minister from 1998 to 2003. In June 2019, Nadda's political stock spiked as he was appointed Working President of the BJP.

Shah, who was the BJP Chief, had written to the PM requesting that his job be given to someone else so he could focus on his Ministerial responsibilities. Shah remained as the party President to complete organisational restructuring before handing over officially to Nadda yesterday.

Natl. Lok Adalat from Feb. 8

Mysuru, Jan. 21- The National Lok Adalat will be held under the aegis of the District Legal Services Authority (DLSA) in the district from Feb.8. Announcing this at a press meet at the DLSA Office in the new Courts Complex in Malalavadi (Jayanagar) here this morning, Principal District and Sessions Judge Suresh K. Vontigodi said that the National Lok Adalat will take place at all the Courts in the district on Feb. 8, Apr. 11, July 11, Sept. 12 and on Dec. 12.

Stating that 35 to 40 benches would be put exclusively at all Courts for the Lok Adalat, Judge Vontigodi said that the Lok Adalat will provide a platform to resolve cases related to monetary disputes, domestic disharmony, bank loan recovery, reinstation of staff, labour disputes, wage disputes, landed properties, issues pertaining to power, water and other utility bills etc., which could be compromised.

Stating that the Lok Adalat would save time, money, maintain good relationship between the litigants and the respondents and find solution to disputes, the Judge appealed to the public to utilise the opportunity.

DLSA Member-Secretary B.P. Devamane, Mysore Bar Association President S. Anand Kumar, Secretary Shivanna and others were present at the press meet.

Woman dies after delivering baby at Cheluvamba Hospital

Chamarajanagar, Jan.21 (KS)- A woman, who was admitted to Cheluvamba Hospital in Mysuru for delivery, has died within few hours after delivering a baby boy yesterday morning.

Neelamma

The deceased is Neelamma (36), wife of LIC representative Mahadevaswamy of Bendaravadi Mallaiahanapura village in the taluk.

Neelamma was working as a Hindi teacher at MCS School in Somwarpet in Chamarajanagar.

Daughter of Shivamallappa of Ramasamudra, Neelamma was given in marriage to Mahadevaswamy and the couple has a three-year-old son.

Neelamma was admitted to Cheluvamba Hospital in Mysuru for her second delivery.

On Sunday at about 11 pm, Neelamma delivered the baby through caesarean section and the baby was healthy.

As Neelamma was suffering from deficiency of White Blood Cells (WBC), she was being treated at the hospital and the doctors at about 2.45 am, informed the family members that Neelamma has died of heart attack. The body of Neelamma was taken to her husband's house at Mallaiahanapura, where her colleagues, students, friends and relatives paid their last respects. Last rites were held in the evening at Mallaiahanapura village yesterday.

Rashmika Mandanna appears before I-T Officials in city

Mysuru, Jan. 21 (MTY&KS) - Actress Rashmika Mandanna, whose house and other properties at Virajpet in Kodagu were raided by the Income-Tax (I-T) sleuths on Jan. 16, appeared before the I-T Officials at the Regional I-T Commissioner's Office of the Principal Income Tax Department at Nazarbad in city this morning.

The actress, who arrived in a black Hyundai car (KA-12-Z-1414) was led into the I-T Office as soon as she arrived. She was accompanied by nine others.

Meanwhile, the I-T sleuths, who had conducted the raids and collected various documents, took two bags and a kit bag containing the documents into the I-T Office.

It is learnt that I-T Commissioner Sanjay Gandhi was conducting the enquiry. Rashmika Mandanna was still inside the I-T Office when we went to the Press.

It may be recalled that the I-T sleuths in three teams swooped on the house of multi-lingual actress Rashmika Mandanna in Virajpet on Jan. 16 morning. Her palatial house is located at Kukkloor village near Kadanoor on the Virajpet-Madikeri Road.

Sources had said that a search warrant was issued by the I-T Department and the officials are suspecting tax evasion after she received payments in cash for several hit movies. A team also raided the Serenity Hall in Virajpet that is owned by Rashmika's father M.A. Mandanna.

The I-T sleuths concluded the raids on Jan. 17 evening and had taken away four boxes containing various documents besides issuing notice to Rashmika to join for the probe.

Rashmika, who was not present on the first day of the raid, arrived at her home late night that day and after the conclusion of raids left for Hyderabad where she was shooting for a movie.

Uchhishta: Excellent portrayal of unethical society

By Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan

In memory of noted stage artiste Ramasheshu, city's Bhasange Balaga hosted the play 'Uchhishta' on 12th January, which was received with great enthusiasm by Mysureans. Prominent Kannada playwright, actor, writer and director S.N. Sethuram staged the play at Mysuru K. Vasudevacharya Bhavana on JLB Road. Produced and directed by Sethuram, 'Uchhishta' drew a hall overflowing with audience. The play was well-received with Sethuram's punching dialogues on harsh truths of today's society.

'Uchhishta' has only four characters. A 24-year-old girl, her mother who is in relationship with a retired professor with a family, the successful professor who is in relationship with the lady for more than twenty years now and the girl's boyfriend.

What is 'Uchhishta'? It means left-overs. It is an effort to understand and appreciate the trials and tribulations of the young, burdened with the inheritance of the left-overs, a consequence of unethical life of the old. How people today live a false life in the name of sophistication is best brought out in the play.

The play opens with the girl's soliloquy followed by her conversation with her boyfriend on call. He is attracted by her and does not mind being in a live-in relationship with her but is hesitant to marry her as his mother is against the girl's mother's illicit relationship with the professor.

The true picture of each character unveils with their soliloquy and dialogues. The mother reveals how the professor became inevitable for her when she had come away quitting her cruel husband from whom she suffered both physical and mental abuse. The professor not only gives her shelter, a good house and education for her child, but gets her a respectable job in the University, helps her get a doctorate knowing well that she has no merit and now she is to be recommended for the post of Vice-Chancellor! She knows that her daughter hates coming home as she is aware of the professor's presence there which irritates her. She also remembers the day when her 3-year-old daughter witnessed her with the professor long ago which was hard for the child to digest. So the child naturally grows up with hatred for the professor.

The professor is now old and needs care, so he does not want to let go of the lady. But the girl needs her mother now as her future mother-in-law refuses to give her consent to the marriage unless her mother is out of her present relationship. Mother and daughter become one and implore the professor to allow them to go away. The professor wants her not only because he needs her to take care of him but because he knows she has no identity of her own and wants to use her for his literary works, to establish a library of his works and thereby leave a legacy behind; all this is possible only with her on his side. So he threatens them with probable consequences — his wife asking for a divorce as she is no longer interested in taking care of him but only interested in his wealth and other rights which rightfully belong to her; the lady being held responsible for their divorce which will affect her job and her probable arrest as her PhD thesis is not her own but written by a student of the professor. But the unmoved mother sticks to her decision and decides to quit the professor. He then tries to convince the daughter with his philosophical words saying the body is mortal after all and that her marriage may not be successful after all. The daughter's words 'she will face whatever is in store for her because she will at least have a respectable title 'wife' in the society' are ironic.

The play hovers around the vachana of Akkamahadevi 'Amedyada madike, mootrada madike, eluvina kudike, sudali dehava, odaluvididu kedadiru Chennamallikarjuna na ariyada maruLe' which means 'Oh foolish mind, you who do not realise Chennamallikarjuna, do not dwell in this body which is a pot of faeces, the pot of urine, the pot of bones...which will be burnt to ashes' that is the gist of life.

The play was successful and effective not only because of the dialogues but also because of the crisp way in which it portrays the hard indigestible truths of today's society, a society devoid of ethics but bound only by law. Yes. The Supreme Court has said that if a man and a woman lived like husband and wife in a long-term relationship, the judiciary would presume that the two were married and the laws would be applicable. But the mother's question 'Should I approach the Supreme Court now?' is haunting as many such Indian women would not go for it fearing their reputation. The audience leave the auditorium with deeply churned thoughts of what is right and what is wrong. Sethuram's love for Tolstoy is seen in the play in his character of the professor who in all hypocrisy acts obedient and humble to his wife but wants to show himself powerful to the girl's mother.

Music by Varijashree was outstanding and the lyrics (mostly vachanas) relevant. Varshini and Akshatha were as fluent as Sethuram himself in their dialogue delivery. The play is an excellent example of how powerful and successful a play can be even with the least characters and make up when you offer plenty of food for thought.

Anant Nag to inaugurate Bahuroopi Theatre Festival

Mysuru, Jan. 21- The much awaited theatre event of the year, the annual National Theatre Festival, Bahuroopi-2020 will be held in Rangayana from Feb.14 to Feb.19. Marking the 150th birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, the theme for the Festival this year is 'Gandhi Patha' (Gandhi's Path).

Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa briefed the media about the upcoming six-day Theatre Festival at Rangayana premises yesterday.

Renowned Kannada actor Anant Nag will be inaugurating Bahuroop-2020 on Feb.14 at 5.30 pm at Vanaranga in Rangayana premises. Kannada and Culture Minister C.T. Ravi will release the souvenir. Mysuru District Minister V. Somanna will inaugurate the handicraft and book exhibition. MP Pratap Simha will be the chief guest. MLA L. Nagendra will preside.

Following inaugural, renowned musician Sangeetha Katti will be rendering Meera Bhajans at Vanaranga. Later, at 8 pm, 'Doddata' will be presented under the sponsorship of Karnataka Bayalata Academy.

Bahuroopi-2020 will feature a total of 24 plays including 10 Kannada plays and 11 plays of other regional languages. The plays will be staged at four venues — Sriranga, Bhoomigeeta and Vanaranga in Rangayana premises and Kalamandira. The final list of plays to be staged at the Fest will be released by Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar on Jan.29.

During the Bahuroopi, senior artistes of the repertory will be staging popular play 'Gandhi Vs Gandhi' and amateur theatre artistes of Mysuru will be staging the play 'Mahatma.'

Mahatma Gandhi's freedom struggle, his philosophy on truth and non-violence, life and works of Father of the Nation, his views on spirituality and religion and other topics will be showcased through photo exhibition along with rendering of ballads (lavani), tatvapadas and bhajans during the Fest.

Yakshagana, doddata, puppet show, street plays as well as folk performances will be the added attractions.

Sabarmati Ashram

Mahatma Gandhi's Sabarmati Ashram is a serene place away from evils like untouchability, inequality and societal divides.

For the Theatre Fest which is having the theme 'Gandhi Patha,' S. Dwarakanath, an artiste from the city, is all set to transform the Rangayana premises into Sabarmati Ashram so that theatre enthusiasts could feel and breath the place where Gandhi lived for several years.

Bahuroopi has been an event where theatre buffs get to watch some of the best plays and participate in the seminars organised to discuss on the topics related to the themes.

A two-day National Seminar on the topic 'Gandhi Patha' will be held on Feb.16 and 17, which will be inaugurated by Dalit poet and activist Siddalingaiah.

Film Fest

This apart, Bahuroopi International Film Festival, which has become a great hit among cine goers, will feature seven movies and 10 documentaries based on the Festival theme. Renowned filmmaker Girish Kasaravalli will be inaugurating the Film Fest at Sriranga auditorium on Feb.14 at 10 am.

Folk Fest

What Next? For those who are at career crossroads

The quality of life depends on the choice made at every critical phase of our lives. A wrong decision made, for any reason, shall adversely impact our future success and career choice is no different.

This book begins by giving useful information and insights to parents of young kids, looking for good Pre-schools, on how to choose the right kind of school for their child. It makes a comparative analysis of various Boards of Education in India, which helps a parent in choosing the most appropriate board for their kid.

It goes on to give parents some valuable tips on parenting to ensure a sound value system and resilient character in children so that they can face the challenges of life with confidence. An entire chapter is dedicated to setting goals and its importance in a student's life. It has been discussed quite extensively as to how goals are critical for success in a chosen career.

In the subsequent chapters, the various options available for students after completing their 10th, 12th and UG courses are discussed. The pros and cons of each option are weighed very judiciously so that the students and parents can make an informed decision on "What Next"? These chapters will help the students to make the right decision by choice, rather than going blindly with the flow. It also informs about a few typical mistakes to be avoided and myths associated with some options, so that the most appropriate decision can be made aligning with their long-term goal.

The massive impact of the Fourth Industrial Revolution, consisting of disruptive technologies like IoT, Robotics, AI, and VR on the future of the job market, is discussed. The necessary mindset and skills to be learned for surviving this disruption have been highlighted in this book, which gives students, confidence to prepare for future challenges of the job market.

This book concludes by explaining the importance of work-life balance in an individual's life and how to achieve balance. It further elaborates on how to be happy and successful in a chosen career.

This book is for all those students and parents who are genuinely at crossroads and not sure of which way to go. It not only helps them in arriving at the right conclusion but also encourages students to explore their options before making a choice. This book is insightful and enables students to make the correct choice whenever they find themselves at the crossroads, thus nudging them towards the life they aspire for.

"Teachers urged to be agents of Nation-building"

Mysuru, Jan.21 - Teachers, apart from acting as Learning Facilitators, should also have to play as the agents of Nation-building in the contemporary context of India, said Dr. N.N. Prahallada, former Faculty, Regional Institute of Education (RIE), Mysuru, while addressing a group of Pre-University Principals and Teachers from Mandya District on the theme "Role of Teachers in Nation-building" at Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar Kalamandira in Mandya, organised by PU Teachers Association-Mandya District recently.

He called upon a group of 450 PU teachers and Principals to establish a harmonious relationship with the students to inculcate in them moral, aesthetic and intellectual personality. Teachers must act as democratic agents to promote in students a spirit of inquiry, critical thinking and critical pedagogy.

Teachers must switch over to the Constructivist approach to Teaching by promoting independent thinking in students. Teaching is the stimulation, guidance, direction and encouragement of learning among students. Teachers must be self-motivated to teach then alone they can inspire students to learn better, he said.

G.R. Geetha, DDPU, Mandya District, Swami Bhante Bodhidattathera, Chief Secretary, Nalanda Buddha University, Chamarajanagar, Dr. Sudhakar Hosalli, Regional Director, KSOU, A.H. Ningegowda, Chief Secretary, Karnataka State Pre-University Teachers Association, Bengaluru, Lion Hanumanthaiah, President and coordinator of the Education Conference and others were present on the occasion.

"Avoid anxiety, face examination"

"Examinations need to be faced avoiding anxiety; then with ease and confidence, one can perform better," said Dr. N.N. Prahallada, while addressing students of Government Pre-University Girls College in Bannur on the theme "Tips for facing Pre-University Examination" recently.

He said proper preparation for the examination is the prime responsibility of all students without which examination becomes a hard nut to crack. Therefore, students need to be studious. PUC is the most crucial stage and a stepping stone to pursue appropriate higher education courses. Hence, hard work is the need of the hour for all PU students to face the examination.

On receiving the question paper in the exam hall, be cool, read all the questions and mark easy questions; then start answering, later take up difficult questions to answer. Don't panic while answering, rather take a deep breath and this will remove your tension to write, he said.

M. Ashwin Kumar, T. Narasipura MLA, who was the chief guest, asked students to perform well.

Goole Gowda, Principal, Government PU College for Girls, Bannur, presided.

The programme was coordinated by Dr. Mahadevaswamy, faculty of the College.

Mysuru, Jan. 21- The Faculty of Life Sciences, JSS Academy of Higher Education and Research, (JSS AHER), Mysuru, recently hosted 'Nano Jatha-2020' as a prelude to the 11th edition of 'Bengaluru India Nano-2020.'

Over 200 High School and Pre-University College students participated. The objective of the event was to popularise and promote the importance of Nanotechnology among young minds. The event was sponsored by Karnataka Science and Technology Promoting Society (KSTePS), Government of Karnataka and Centre for Nano and Soft Matter Sciences (CeNS), Government of India.

In his inaugural address, Dr. Surinder Singh, Vice-Chancellor of JSS AHER, stressed on the importance of Nanotechnology, quoting examples from daily life. He explained how it is going to play a major role in every sector of human life in future.

He lauded the role of Karnataka's Vision Group on Nanotechnology, chaired by Prof. C.N.R. Rao in reaching a large number of students through Bengaluru India Nano event which is held annually as part of the efforts towards fostering a business environment for the development of Nano-science and Nanotechnology Industry in India.

Further, Dr. Singh elaborated on the applications of nanotechnology in cancer therapy. He added that delivering drugs at nano-scale which are tagged with monoclonal antibodies lead to reduced quantity of drugs with less side-effects without compromising on the efficiency of the drugs.

Dr. P.A. Kushalappa, Director Academics, JSS AHER and Dr. K.A. Raveesha, Head, Faculty of Life Sciences (FLS), were the guests of honour.

Following the inaugural session, students were exposed to a 30-minute video on the importance of Nanotechnology. There were two technical sessions. Dr. Pralay Santra, Scientist, CeNS, shared a presentation on "Nanotechnology, a source of light" while Dr. Siddharth Joshi, Head, Centre for Nanotechnology, NIE, Mysuru spoke on the "Importance of Nanotechnology in Science and Engineering."

An exhibition was arranged depicting the importance of nanotechnology and how the field is being used in daily life. Some of the exhibits like "When gold is not golden," "Today I am Faraday," "Electricity from fruit juice" etc., attracted the attention of students.

The sessions were quite interactive and led the students to inquire about the current knowledge in the advanced field on nanotechnology. To further encourage the students, a quiz competition was held in the afternoon session and the winners were awarded with cash prizes.

Dr. T.S. Gopenath, Associate Professor, FLS and Organising Secretary of the Nano Jatha, proposed a vote of thanks.

The 11th edition of 'Bengaluru India Nano-2020' will be held on March 2 and 3 at The Lalit Ashok, Bengaluru. This year's theme is "New Dimensions in Nano-science and Nanotechnology for Industry 4.0." The event, organised since 2007, has been receiving tremendous response from Research, Academia and Industry.

Mysuru, Jan. 21-As one of the major programmes, Rotary International promotes 'Nation - Building' sentiments in young minds through formation of Interact Clubs in Schools. On Jan.13, Rotary Ivory City Mysuru installed an Interact Club at Madapura Government Higher Secondary School, H.D. Kote, at a programme organised by Acting Head Mistress Nethravathi. The installation ceremony was presided over by Club President Rtn. S. Balachander.

Past President Rtn. V.N. Prasad installed Ravikumar as Interact Club President for 2020-21 and Manasa as Secretary of the newly-installed Club. Speaking on the occasion, Prasad emphasised the importance of instilling leadership qualities in the young minds of today to build a strong nation. He recalled the sacrifices of great personalities like Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, Rashtrakavi Kuvempu, Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam and many such who were all educated in Government Schools but turned luminaries for the country.

A clarion call was made to the children to develop a sense of 'Community Service' in their formative age that helps in building stronger fabric of societal well-being.

Teacher Hema Malini was elected as the convener of the Club. Rotary Ivory City donated a study table for the School Library.

On the occasion, Ivory City also donated a 'Sewing Machine' to a widowed lady Manjula to enable her to earn livelihood. Past Assistant Governor Rtn. Sunil L. Baliga also spoke.

Lily-livered

Pronunciation: LILL-ee-LIV-erd.
Meaning: Lacking courage : cowardly.
Origin: The basis of the word lily-livered lies in an old belief. Years ago, people thought that health and temperament were the products of a balance or imbalance of four bodily fluids, or humours: blood, phlegm, black bile and yellow bile. It was believed that a deficiency of yellow bile, or choler, the humour that governed anger, spirit and courage, would leave a person's liver colourless or white. Someone with this deficiency and so white-livered, would be spiritless and a coward. Lily-livered and white-livered have been used synonymously since the 17th century, but lily-livered is now the more common expression, probably because of its alliteration.
Example: "The deus ex machina aspect of Mando's comrades popping up to save him and Baby Yoda from certain death once he proved he wasn't a lily-livered Empire flunky kind of irked me, but I often have that complaint with sci-fi and superhero stories, both of which are prone to ending battles with an out-of-nowhere assist." — Katie Rife.

THE ODD WORD

Labiomancy

Lip reading.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Knock it out of the park

Meaning: An activity, task, or something that is done exceptionally well.

Origin: Baseball is where the idiom "knock it out of the park" comes from. Since this sport is popular, I probably don't need to describe the basics of it to you. However, in order to explain how this term originated from there, I'm going to briefly go over some of the basics: In baseball, a ball is pitched to a batter whose goal is to try and hit the ball as hard as possible. Ideally, the batter wants to knock "it" (the ball) out of the park. Doing so would result in a home run, allowing the batter to safely run to first, second, and third base and finally back to the home plate, thus scoring a "run" for his team. Obviously, it's not easy to knock the ball out of the park. It requires the batter to strike the ball exceptionally well, but if they succeed at doing it, then they did a great job. Thus, this literal thing that a batter would do in baseball eventually went on to be used figuratively for when someone does an exceptional job at anything—it's as if the person is a batter and they "knocked it out of the park."
Anyways, the earliest appearance of this saying in print that I could find is from the late 19th century. Unsurprisingly, the term is used in a literal sense and in relation to baseball. This example comes from the newspaper Launchestion Examiner, December 1894:
"The new junior team possesses a splendid hitter in Richards, who managed four times to hit the ball out of the Park."
